

RESPONSE AS A AMENDMENT

1. There are a couple of amendments under the (topic) heading 'Abstract of Disclosure' on the new amendment document of the invention that has either been slightly reconstructed in it's wording rearrangements or words removed in order to shorten the paragraph, yet it still gives a full adequate explanatory understanding of the subject matter without changing or adding any new ideas to this part of the invention.

2. The new amendments that has been made unto the drawings are that it has been redrawn by computerized sketches, computer word typing, and better organization, in order to acheive better neat precise views and understanding without having to add or change anything about the original idea or construction of the drawings.
